GENERAL STATEMENT.

KNOX COLLEGE, at Galesburg, Illinois, was founded in 1837, and fully organized as a College in 1841. It had its origin in a plan of Christian benevolence. Half the township, now known as Galesburg, was originally purchased as an endowment for the College, by a company formed by Rev. George W. Gale, at Whitesboro', N. Y. It is under the management of a Board of Trustees, representing various evangelical denominations.

With a full staff of Professors and Instructors, and courses of study adapted to the wants of those who desire a higher education than ordinary schools afford, it is believed that the College has before it a career of great prosperity. While it will be the aim of the Faculty and Trustees to adapt the Institution to the educational conditions of the country, this will yet be done with due regard to the maintenance of a high standard of classical and scientific attainments. The courses of instruction, known respectively as the Classical and Scientific Courses, and the Literary Course for young ladies, are thorough and complete. Each of the three courses occupies four years. In each year there are three terms. Each of the College classes attend three recitations or lectures daily except Saturday.

Connected with Knox College are Knox Academy, Knox Conservatory of Music and Knox School of Art. Information in regard to the work of these schools is given under appropriate headings in the catalogue.

Admission.

No one can be admitted to the Freshman Class until he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to advanced standing without a corresponding increase of age.

All candidates for admission to the College must, before examination, present satisfactory testimonials of a good moral character, and students coming from other Colleges must produce certificates of regular dismissal.

Candidates for advanced standing are examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class they wish to enter, and also in the requirements for admission to the College, if such standing has not been regularly attained in another.

The stated times for examination are the Monday preceding Commencement, at 9 o'clock A. M., and the last day of the ensuing vacation, at the same hour. Persons can be examined for advanced standing at any time during the College year. The examinations are both written and oral.

Students from certain preparatory schools, which have been approved by the Faculty, will be admitted to suitable classes without a special examination, on presenting their diplomas of graduation, or certificates of class standing, accompanied by the recommendation of the Principal of the School; provided that such certificates or diplomas be presented within one year and three months of the date thereof. In the case of those received on certificate, the first term of attendance will be considered probationary, and students manifestly deficient in preparation may at any time be dropped from the class.

NOTE.—In 1893 students from the following schools will be received on certificate: Galesburg High School, Princeton High School, Peoria High School, Geneseo Collegiate Institute, Marengo High School, Ottawa High School, Aledo Academy, Canton High School, Kewanee High School, Toulon Academy, Port Byron Academy, Macomb High School, Rock Island High School, Galva High School, Lexington High School, Geneseo High School, Avon High School, Tipton, Iowa, High School, Rugby Academy, St. Louis, Mo. School boards, or instructors of other schools, who wish to have their students admitted on certificate, are requested to correspond with the President.

Students who desire to pursue selected branches of study may do so, if properly prepared to pursue them with the regular classes. All such students are required to take the regular examinations with the classes of which they have thus become members.

Graduates of the Institution are admitted free to any course of lectures, or to the recitations in any study in the regular curriculum. They are at liberty to take part in the recitations or not, at their option.

Department of Greek Language and Literature.

The present course in Greek at Knox College was adopted in the conviction that, whether the language be studied for its disciplinary value or as an introduction to Greek literature, the first step should be a thorough acquaintance with Attic prose of the classic period. To this nearly three years are given.

Not until a mastery of Attic prose usage has been secured are the works of Homer and the tragedians introduced, and these works are read and studied chiefly as literature. Only so much time is devoted to Greek dialects as is necessary to an intelligent reading of the poets.

It was, furthermore, believed that students would better spend their time upon a few authors than divide it up among many. Accordingly, the Preparatory course in Greek includes only Xenophon and Lysias, and in the Freshman year only Lysias, Plato and Thucydides are read until the third term. By this time students have become thoroughly grounded in Attic usage and can safely enter upon the study of the Epic. Moreover, they are advanced enough to enjoy Homer as literature. The reading of Homer extends through not only the third term of the Freshman year, but also eight weeks of the first term of the Sophomore year. Then the study of Attic prose is resumed with Demosthenes, whom the student reads during the last eight weeks of the first term and so much of the second term as may seem most profitable. The remainder of the Sophomore year and one term of the Junior are devoted to the study of the tragedians.

Naturally lessons in Greek Prose Composition accompany the reading of the prose writers, and appropriate lectures upon Greek poetry are read in connection with the study of Homer and the dramatists.

Department of Latin Language and Literature.

Important aims of the Knox Latin Course are to give a general knowledge of the main facts connected with the Latin language and literature and such a practical acquaintance with Latin forms and usages as shall enable students who finish the course not only to read Latin but to teach it. At the same time there will be kept in view the disciplinary value of classical study. To these ends the work will be accurate translations into clear, idiomatic English, taking care that the thought and spirit of the author be intelligently grasped; careful construction and analysis, with a thorough review of the grammar; sight reading; consideration of English derivatives; and other phases of study suggested from time to time, which shall be deemed necessary to a better understanding of the Latin.

In each term throughout the course a wide range of reading and research is suggested, which is in no case compulsory, indeed is not encouraged unless the regular lessons first receive due attention, but the results of which shall count as "extra work." With this system every student can, under supervision of the teacher, pursue each term's work beyond the ordinary range more or less carefully according to time, health and ability.

In the Junior and Senior years, in which Latin is optional, considerable latitude will be allowed in the selection of authors and lines of work. If instead of the author suggested for any term, the majority of the class shall wish to continue readings in which they have become especially interested in a previous term, it may, in certain circumstances be allowed.

In the Senior year and in resident post-graduate work, one of five courses shall be chosen by those who elect the Latin: (1) Translation of selected authors, as outlined in the paragraphs above. (2) Connected study of Roman Literature, with short readings from representative writers, and lectures by the teacher. (This study may be taken in the Junior year, if preferred.) (3) Original research by critical comparison and induction. (4) Normal work, for those intending to teach Latin, including a thorough review of elementary principles, discussion of different methods of teaching and practical suggestions for class room work in the study of Latin. (5) In the second term of the Senior year, a general review of all the authors read in the course.

Department of English Language and Literature.

I. RHETORIC. Text book—Williams' Practical Rhetoric, with general exercises in outlining, development of themes, practical criticisms and discussions.

(a) Scientific Sophomores and Seminary Freshmen.—Required: Five hours, first twelve weeks, Fall Term.

(b) Classical Freshmen.—Required: Three hours, Spring Term.

II. ENGLISH LITERATURE. Text book—Meiklejohn's Brief History of the English Language and Literature. An outline course, supplemented by occasional lectures upon the more important periods and writers.

Junior Class.—Required (with Latin, an elective in the Classical Course): Two hours, Fall Term.

III. ENGLISH LITERATURE. (a) A three hours' course upon American Writers.

(b) A two hours' course in Middle English. In 1894 the Prologue to the Canterbury Tales will be studied.

Junior Class.—Required: Five hours, Spring Term.

IV. ANGLO-SAXON. Beginning in the Fall Term, this course will continue through the Winter. All students who elect this study will be required to complete the course. In the Winter Term, one of the Anglo-Saxon epics will be read.

Senior Class.—Optional with German and Latin. Fall and Winter Terms, two hours.

V. ENGLISH MASTERPIECES. Critical study of a limited number of the best writers, with discussion of their style and influence. Students who elect Anglo-Saxon are required to take this work.

Senior Class.—Three hours, Winter Term.

VI. SHAKESPEARE. The following plays will be read in 1894: Merchant of Venice, Twelfth Night, Hamlet, King Lear, The Winter's Tale.

A course of lectures, one each week, will be given upon the life and art of Shakespeare, the development of the drama, principles of criticism, and other subjects suggested by the work.

Senior Class.—Optional with Latin: Three hours, Spring Term.

The aim of the Department will be not only to afford necessary instruction in the principles of Rhetoric and in the history of English Literature, but also to foster a taste for the best literature and to encourage voluntary reading and independent study on the part of individual students. The courses in the Senior year are conducted entirely on Seminary methods.

RHETORICAL EXERCISES.

Exercises in composition are required in the several classes.

The members of the Senior and Junior Classes are required to prepare at least one oration of not less than 1,800 words in length, and two essays of equal length. The Sophomores prepare five essays of not less than 700 words in length. The Freshmen prepare at least one written exercise each term.

On Friday of each week all the students attend public exhibitions in the Chapel, and give declamations, original essays and orations, under the direction and criticism of the Instructor in Elocution.

From the members of the Senior Class are required two declamations besides the oration referred to above; from the Juniors, three declamations besides the oration. The Sophomores and Freshmen give four declamations each, during the year.

All classes meet the Instructor in Elocution once each week for regular drill in Reading.

Chemistry and the Natural Sciences.

CHEMISTRY.

By the use of a text book and by experimental lectures, the instruction aims to secure a familiar acquaintance with the elementary facts and principles of Inorganic Chemistry. The student is taught to observe chemical phenomena and to explain them, writing out fully by means of chemical equations each change as it occurs, and solving various volumetric and stoichiometric problems until their underlying principles are well understood. He may then pass into the laboratory and by his own experiments gain a practical knowledge of the properties of the common elements and their compounds. The laboratory work embraces an elementary course of qualitative chemical analysis, sufficient to give some practice in manipulation and a fair acquaintance with the methods of investigation. The laboratory is open six hours a week for about ten weeks.

MINERALOGY.

Two hours a week during the second term are given to recitations and lectures in this course of study. Dana's text book is used, and the student is expected to work in the laboratory, making a careful examination of the more common minerals and learning to determine them by means of their physical characters and by blow-pipe reactions.

BOTANY.

The instruction is given by means of a text book and by lectures. There is constant practice in analyzing and describing plants, and the preparation of a small herbarium is required. The aim is to secure a good knowledge of both Structural and Systematic Botany, the ability to distinguish the principal orders of plants at sight, and some familiarity with the flora of the vicinity.

PHYSIOLOGY AND ZOOLOGY.

The instruction given in Human Anatomy and Physiology is intended to be both practical and scientific. Attention is called to the important laws of health, and at the same time a foundation is laid for studying the Morphology and Physiology of the lower animals. The course of study in Zoology seeks to give a knowledge of the rudiments of Comparative Anatomy and Philosophy and of the principles of classification. Recitations and lectures in both Physiology and Zoology are fully illustrated by diagrams, models, specimens, skeletons and dissections.

GEOLOGY.

Geology is taught by recitations and lectures based upon Dana's text book. The study is made as practical as possible, and constant use is made of minerals, and rocks, and fossils, as well as of diagrams and maps, for illustration and for special examination on the part of the student.

---

The Department of Mathematics.

---

In preparation for the mathematical course a thorough knowledge of arithmetic is indispensable; and in algebra, special attention should be given to factoring, to quadratics, and to elimination.

The required course in all the departments embraces geometry, plane and solid, and plane trigonometry; in addition to these branches, spherical trigonometry is required of gentlemen in the different courses. Analytic geometry and calculus are elective.

In geometry, considerable attention is given to original demonstrations; and in the other branches a large part of the work consists in the application of principles, carefully proven, to the solution of a great variety of examples. The principles of plane and spherical trigonometry are applied to some of the problems of surveying and navigation.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

In Optics, Spectrum Analysis has been added, and the subject is illustrated by manipulation of light, and by lantern slides.

The relations of Spectroscopy to Physical Optics, to Chemistry, and to recent discoveries in Astronomy are presented. Analysis of light will be made, and a fine heliostat with driving clock is now in active use in the physical laboratory. On clear days solar light is reflected into a dark room, when all kinds of optical experiments are performed. On cloudy days the oxy-hydrogen light is employed in the projection of spectra. A course in Solar Microscopy will be given, while attention will be paid to late researches in molecular vibrations.

Special attention will be given also to the theoretical and practical study of Electricity.

ASTRONOMY.

In this department much is gained by the use of the six-inch Clark telescope. During the course special attention will be given to the results of Celestial Photography and to the practical work now being carried on at home and abroad.

Department of Modern Languages.

GERMAN.

German is a required study for students in Scientific Course during the Freshman year. The Joynes-Meissner Grammar and Reader are used. Five hours.

In the Junior year of the Classical and Literary Courses, an elective is offered in German. This is for beginners. The Joynes-Meissner Grammar and Reader are used as text-books. In the Spring Term more advanced selections are read. Five hours.

An elective is offered during the Fall and Winter Terms of the Senior year in all courses. Several works are read and acquaintance made with the classics of German literature. This course is for students who have had a year's work in German, and is especially commended to those who desire to prosecute their study further. Fall Term, two hours; Winter Term, five hours.

FRENCH.

French is an elective study only, beginning with the winter term of the Sophomore year in all courses. Two terms are offered to Classical students, while Scientific and Seminary students may continue the study through the Junior year.

Whitney's Practical French Grammar is used as text-book in the first term, Super's Preparatory French Reader in the second (Spring Term, Sophomore year). It is recommended that the work of the first term be elected only with the intention of taking that of the second also. In these two terms may be acquired the ability to read readily ordinary French prose. A due amount of time will be devoted to pronunciation, and translation into idiomatic English will be insisted upon.

The courses offered in the Junior year will, except by special permission, be open only to those Scientific and Seminary students who shall have completed all of the preceding preparatory work. During this year French will be studied from a literary as well as from a linguistic stand-point. Selections for reading will be made both from the masters of the classical drama, Corneille, Racine and Moliere, and from Lamartine, Hugo and other exponents of the Romantic school. In addition to this there will be more or less reading on popular and scientific subjects, practice in composition with especial reference to the idioms of the language, and a brief study of the history of French literature, either by text-book or by lectures. The reading is not further specified here, as it will be changed somewhat from year to year, in effect opening up a still more extended course to such students as may have the time and inclination to pursue it.

Department of History.

Grecian History is a required study in the Winter Term of the Freshman year, Literary Course. Sheldon's Outlines are used, and the work is supplemented by frequent library references. Each student is required to keep a note-book containing summaries of information gained outside the text-book, and topical analyses of important periods.

Roman History, in the Spring Term of the same year (also a required study for Freshmen, Literary Course), follows the same plan. Both Grecian and Roman History are five hour studies.

English History is a required study in the Fall and Winter Terms of the Sophomore year, Scientific and Literary Courses. Text-book, Montgomery's "Leading Facts in English History." In addition each student is required to make a special report before the class upon some topic assigned by the instructor, and upon which at least five authorities have been consulted. Notes upon these reports are kept by the class and criticised weekly by the instructor.

The History of Art is a required study in Literary Course, Fall Term, Sophomore year. De Forest's text-book is used; supplemented by library references, and use of Soule's reproductions. The course comprises a study of the most notable buildings in Grecian, Roman, Gothic and Renaissance architecture; and of the most noted productions of the Greek schools of sculpture, and famous works of Roman and modern sculptors. A study is also made of the biographies of painters, and of their most characteristic works. Both English History and the History of Art are five hour studies.

The History of the Middle Ages, a three hour course, is offered as an elective in the Fall and Winter Terms of the Junior year.

English Constitutional History, a three hour course, is offered in the Spring Term of the same year. Very little attention is paid to a text book in these Junior Classes. It is intended that the student shall become acquainted with several authorities on each period. Outlines and library references are furnished by the instructor and occasional lectures given.

Students intending to enter any of these classes would do well to bring from home such books as would be valuable for reference.

Department of Military Science and Tactics.

This department is in charge of an officer of the regular army, detailed for the purpose by the Honorable Secretary of War.

There are at present three companies organized into a battalion, and it is proposed, in the near future, to organize a Battery of Artillery.

On October 7th, 1891, a Cadet Band of twelve pieces was organized and supplied with a complete set of new nickel-plated instruments. The Band has been under the personal direction of Prof. W. F. Bentley, of Knox Conservatory, and has made admirable progress.

The course is obligatory on all able-bodied male students of Freshman and Sophomore Classes, unless excused by the Faculty for cause. Enrollment is optional with other male students in the College and Preparatory Department; those enrolling themselves, however, will be required to serve through the school year in which they have enrolled. As a rule Cadet Officers will be selected from the Senior Class, Cadet Sergeants from the Junior, and Cadet Corporals from the Sophomore Class.

Each cadet student is required to provide himself with a uniform, which is made up from serviceable Cadet Gray cloth, and a good suit can be purchased from Galesburg clothiers for from sixteen to eighteen dollars. The uniform may be worn at all times, and makes a very neat and desirable student's dress.

PRACTICAL INSTRUCTION.

School of the Soldier and Company.
 Bayonet Fencing; Saber Exercise.
 School of the Battalion; Skirmish Drill.
 Ceremonies and Reviews; Military Signaling.
 Target Practice with Rifle.

THEORETICAL INSTRUCTION.

Military Organization and Administration.
 Reports and Returns.
 Elementary Principles governing in the Art of War, etc.

Military Instruction consumes about three hours each week.

All Cadet Commissioned officers receive from the College handsomely engraved commissions, a reward for faithful service.

His Excellency, the Governor of the State of Illinois, has kindly consented to commission as Brevet Lieutenant, Illinois National Guard, all graduates in the Military Department.

The three Seniors graduating with the highest honors in the Military Department are reported to the Secretary of War and receive honorable mention in the Annual Official Army Register; preference being given to those so reported, in selecting officers for vacancies in the regular army of the United States.

In 1892-'93 Captain H. S. Ensign, Captain C. O. Rawalt and Captain G. A. Cooke were reported in accordance with the above.

Lecture Study Courses.

The College offered during the College year 1892-'93 five Special Courses in English Literature, Sociology, Anthropology and American History. These Courses were conducted after the manner of University Extension Courses, each Course consisting of six lectures, with class work under the direction of the Lecturer. Students in all departments were admitted to these Courses without charge, and persons not connected with the College as students were permitted to attend upon payment of a fee of one dollar per course.

The following is a list of lectures and courses:

Course 1, by John Charles Freeman, LL.D. (Professor of English Literature, University of Wisconsin). "English Literature," embracing the following topics:

Alfred the Great; The Anglo-Saxon Time. Chaucer, the Father of English Song; The Dawn of Modern English Literature. The Canterbury Tales; English Life in the Fourteenth Century. The Last Knight and the First Gentleman; The End of Chivalry and the Beginning of Modern Society. The Development of Dramatic Literature. The Evolution of the Novel.

Course 2, by Frederick Starr, Ph. D. (Assistant Professor of Anthropology and Curator of Museum, University of Chicago). "First Steps in Human Progress," embracing the following topics:

Food-Getting and Fire-Making; Pottery and Basketry; Stone and Metal; Speech; Writing; Tradition.

Course 3, by Richard T. Ely, Ph. D., LL.D. (Director of Department of History and Politics, University of Wisconsin). "Socialism," embracing the following topics:

The Nature of Socialism; The Strength of Socialism; The Weakness of Socialism; "The Golden Mean, or Practicable Social Reform."

Course 4, by Frederick J. Turner, Ph. D. (Professor of American History, University of Wisconsin). "The Colonization of North America," embracing the following topics:

American Colonization before Columbus; Spanish Colonization and the Devonshire Seamen; The Colonization of the South; The Colonization of the Middle Region; The Colonization of New England; The Colonization of New-France.

Course 5, by Harry Pratt Judson, A. M. (Professor of Constitutional History and Politics and Dean of Colleges, University of Chicago). "American Political History," embracing the following topics:

The Confederation; Beginning of Constitutional Government; The Revolution of 1801; Jeffersonian Republicanism; Politics of War of 1812; The Early Democracy.

In addition to the lectures of the above Courses two lectures were given by Albion W. Small, Ph. D., Professor of Social Science, University of Chicago, on "The Coming Man" and "The Coming Society;" two lectures by Rev. Frederick Howard Wines, LL.D. (Secretary of the Illinois State Board of Charities and U. S. Special Census Agent), on "The Prison Question" and "Charities;" one lecture by Frederick Starr, Ph. D., on "Life with the Indians of Iowa;" one lecture by Mr. Jacob A. Riis, on "How the Other Half Lives;" five by Rev. Edwin Stutely Carr, on "Greek Philosophy," and two by Joseph Searle Gaylord, A. M., on "Methods of Mental Training."

The average attendance at the above lectures was about two hundred. Of this number about one-half were students and the other half persons from Galesburg and the vicinity. The reading in connection with the courses was done by many, but only those named below took the prescribed examination and received credit for the work done. Miss Jennie Long, Miss Almedia Laurson, Miss Frances Arnold, Mr. Arthur W. Dunn, Mr. Wilber H. Young.

Knox College Extension.

In harmony with the general movement throughout the country, and in response to the expressed wish of many of our own citizens for direction and instruction in systematic study, Knox College has the past year, organized a department to be known as KNOX COLLEGE EXTENSION. Its aim is to give instruction to those in Galesburg and vicinity who cannot take a regular college course but wish to pursue studies under guidance. Various branches of study have been offered, under each of which six lectures constitute a Course. The methods of instruction are in general: (a) A weekly meeting which shall include (1) questions on preceding lecture, 15 minutes; (2) lecture, 45 minutes; (3) discussion, 30 minutes. (b) Course of home reading and study, suggested by the lecturer. (c) Preparation of papers by the student for examination and criticism. (d) In certain departments modified class room instruction may, under appropriate conditions, be offered. (e) At the completion of the Course an examination shall be given, covering work of the Course.

The special work in connection with the lectures is optional, but to those who accomplish it satisfactorily, credit by certificate is given.

Seven courses of lectures have been given during the past year with a total attendance of one hundred and eighty. These courses were as follows:

In Galesburg:—President John H. Finley, on Social Science; Prof. W. E. Simonds, two courses on English Literature; Prof. E. L. Larkin, two courses on Electricity.

In Princeville:—Miss Jessie Holmes, on English History.

In Knoxville:—Prof. W. E. Simonds, on Shakespeare, Tennyson and Browning.

It is hoped that this work may be extended in Galesburg and into surrounding towns, during 1893-'94, and for that season the following announcements are made, lecturers in other departments to be added hereafter as they may be demanded and their services can be secured :

President John H. Finley—Social Science.

Prof. Lee S. Pratt—(a) Roman Literature. (b) Translation of Selected Latin Authors.

Prof. T. R. Willard—Translation from Greek Dramatists, Homer or the New Testament.

Prof. Edgar L. Larkin—(a) Electricity. (b) Astronomy.

Prof. W. E. Simonds—(a) General Course in English Literature: Elizabethan Period to the Present. (b) The English Poets: Milton to Tennyson.

Jessie R. Holmes—(a) English History. (b) History of Art.

Cora F. Stone—American Literature.

Inquiries as to details and applications for lectures should be addressed to Prof. Lee S. Pratt, Secretary of Knox Extension.

Miss Mary A Parmenter, Knoxville, Ill., passed the prescribed examination at completion of the course on "Shakespeare, Tennyson and Browning" and received credit for the work done.

Literary Societies.

The students of Knox College sustain three Literary Societies, devoted to the improvement of their members in debate; in a knowledge of parliamentary law; and in writing, reading, and other literary work. The Societies are so managed and conducted as to subserve these important ends and uses, in a very high degree; and they are exceptionally free from the objectionable features which sometimes attach to such organizations. A view of the origin, equipment and working-plans of each Society is afforded in the subjoined sketches, furnished by the respective officers.

ADELPHI.

The Adelphi was organized in the Spring of 1846, and obtained a charter in May, 1847. It is the oldest organized Society in Galesburg. Any young man pursuing a course of study in Knox College is eligible to membership.

The regular literary meetings of the Society are held every Thursday evening of the college year. The exercises consist of debates, orations, poems, essays, declamations, original stories, music, etc. The method of assigning these to members secures equal privileges for all.

The Adelphi has a library which now contains more than 1,500 volumes of the best literature, recent standard works being added every year. This library has been incorporated during the past year with the regular College Library.

An annual prize of $35, for excellence in debate, was established by the Society in 1891. Contestants are chosen from the Sophomore and Junior Classes. The funds for the debate are derived from the proceeds of the Lecture Course.

The first public exhibition of the Adelphi was held June 3d, 1846, and since that time public exhibitions and open meetings of various kinds have been given annually. The Society holds every alternate year an anniversary near the close of the Fall Term, and a Reunion of Alumni and friends on Monday evening of Commencement Week. These two events are looked to with no little enthusiasm, and are occasions of much pleasure and inspiration.

As a means of income to the Society, every alternate year the Adelphi conducts a course of entertainments, by which the best talent in the lecture field and the most accomplished musical performers are brought to the city.

The Society occupies its new hall in the west wing of the Alumni Building, embracing a commodious assembly room, parlors, library and toilet rooms, all of which are for the use of its members.

Officers for 1892-'93 :

President , BERT C. TAYLOR.	Rec. Sec. , EDWIN P. REESE.
Vice President , FRED ARNOLD.	Treasurer , J. H. ANDREWS.
Cor. Sec. , GEORGE STEPHENS.	Librarian , H. S. ENSIGN.

GNOTHAUTII.

The Gnothautii was organized November 1st, 1849, and soon after obtained a charter. Any young man pursuing a course of study in Knox College is eligible to membership.

Its regular literary meetings are held Thursday evening of each week during the college year. The programs of these meetings consist of debates, orations, declamations, poems, original stories, music, etc. In the making of the weekly program, the regulations are such that every member shall have his full share of work to perform, and yet never be compelled to defend, in debate, a cause which he believes to be wrong. While the society does not neglect any phase of literary work, it aims to make itself emphatically a debating society.

As an incentive to attain excellence in debating, the late Gen. D. D. Colton, in September, 1876, endowed the "Colton Prize" to be competed for by members of the Sophomore and Junior classes.

On alternate years the Gnothautii conducts a Lecture Course, the proceeds of which have enabled the society to procure a library of standard works, which have since been donated to the College Library.

Open meetings are held from time to time, and on Monday evening of Commencement week, the society welcomes to its hall in its Annual Re-union its Alumni and friends.

During the past year the Gnothautii has made arrangement to furnish the new hall in a manner suited to the needs of the Society and the character of the Hall itself. It is hoped that thus the new Hall may be made not only a meeting place for the members, but a home as well.

Officers for 1892-'93:

President , G. C. GALE.	Cor. Sec. , J. F. CORBIN.
Vice-President , T. B. MCGREGOR.	Rec. Sec. , G. M. LUCKEY.
Cashier , W. H. YOUNG.	Treasurer , J. R. MORELAND.
Critic , W. M. IRWIN.

THE "L. M. I."

The "L. M. I." Society was organized November 20, 1861. Any young lady pursuing a regular course in Knox College or Conservatory is eligible to membership.

The literary meetings are held every Thursday afternoon during the college year, in the Society hall. The exercises consist of debates, orations, essays, declamations, etc.

The L. M. I. Hall is situated on the third floor of Knox Seminary, and the large, elegantly furnished room is the pride of the Society.

The anniversaries of the Society are observed by public exercises. An open meeting is held once a year, and the Alumnae Reunion occurs on Tuesday morning of Commencement week.

The officers are elected semi-annually, and at present are as follows:

President , HANNA LIND.	Rec. Sec. , MARTHA STONE.
Vice President , MINNIE JOHNSON.	Treasurer , LULU BABCOCK.
Cor. Sec. , PERLA GILBERT.	First Critic , JEAN CASKEY.
Second Critic , DELLA SPENCER.

Christian Associations.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Knox College, organized in 1880, is a branch of an organization which has spread over the civilized world. The object of the Association is to promote growth in Christian life and fellowship, and to carry on an organized Christian work among the young men of the College.

Besides individual work, it has organized work through Devotional, Membership, Missionary, Bible Study, Finance, Intercollegiate Relations and "Fall Campaign" Committees.

A gospel meeting is held every Saturday morning; and on Friday evening a devotional meeting is held in conjunction with the Y. W. C. A., in the Seminary Chapel.

The Bible Classes carried on by the two Associations are an important part of the work. During the past year three courses of study have been conducted: (1) Beginner's Course in Bible History; (2) Inductive Study of Mark; (3) Training Course for Personal Work. The leaders of the several classes meet once a week for study, and are thus well prepared to instruct and lead their classes. In this way a very systematic and successful study of the Bible is secured. Any member of the Institution may join one of these classes.

The Association is now working vigorously for a home of its own, with all of the accommodations usually found in Y. M. C. A. buildings. Pledges amounting to more than $5,000 have already been given.

An Annual Address is delivered before the Association by an invited speaker Sunday evening of Commencement Week.

Membership in an evangelical church constitutes eligibility to full membership in the Association. Students of good moral character are admitted to associate membership.

All young men of the College, Academy and Conservatory are earnestly invited to unite with the Association.

In conjunction with the Y. W. C. A. a sociable is held at the beginning of each college year, for the purpose of enabling the new students to become acquainted with one another, and with the old students, and of presenting the work of the Associations.

The officers are elected near the close of the Winter Term, and hold office for one year.

The officers for the present year are as follows:

President, F. J. KARASEK.                   Cor. Sec., R. T. MATHEWS.

Vice President, GEORGE STEPHENS.   Rec. Sec., R. B. CUSHING.

Treasurer, FRANK FULTON.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

The Young Women's Christian Association of Knox College is a branch of an organization which is exerting a wide-spread influence and even now girdles the globe.

Until March, 1884, the ladies were members of the Y. M. C. A. of the College, but at that time the present Y. W. C. A. was organized with a charter membership of thirty-four, which number has been increased to one hundred and nine.

The Knox College Association was one of the Associations represented at the conference held at Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, in August, 1886, for the purpose of forming a national organization of the Y. W. C. A.'s of the United States.

The general plan of the work is the same as in the Y. M. C. A.; the committees of the two Associations as far as is practicable work in conjunction.

On Friday evening of each week there is a union devotional meeting of the two Associations, including, once a month, a missionary meeting. In the afternoon of every fourth Sabbath a special gospel meeting for young women is held in the Seminary Chapel, and the young women in the Seminary have organized prayer circles which meet daily.

The plan of Bible study is fully described in the preceding synopsis of the work of the Y. M. C. A. During the past year ten Bible classes, limited to ten members each, have been maintained.

Social gatherings are held during the year to awaken an interest in the Christian Associations and promote sociability among the students.

All lady students of each department of the College are earnestly requested to unite with the Association and thus to further Christian interests among the students.

Membership in an evangelical church constitutes eligibility to full membership in the Y. W. C. A. Young ladies who are not members of any evangelical church but who wish to join the Association, may be admitted to associate membership.

The officers during the past year were:

President, JEAN S. CASKEY. Cor. Sec., ANNA DRIGGS.

Vice Pres., BESSIE L. HINCKLEY. Rec. Sec., ANNETTE MONTGOMERY.

Treasurer, ETHA BUTCHER.

The officers are elected in March, and hold office one year. The officers at present are:

President, ETHA BUTCHER. Cor. Sec., FRANCES ARNOLD.

Vice President, MARIAN NILES. Rec. Sec., EVA STANFORD.

Treasurer, ADDA GENTRY.

KNOX SEMINARY MISSION CIRCLE.

This Circle, which was organized March 15, 1884, has in view the study of, and aid in, Missions, thereby hoping to increase an interest in that department of Christian work.

The Society is auxiliary to the W. B. M. I. and is to aid in sustaining a pier of the young ladies' missionary bridge, by the payment of such a pledge as the Circle shall deem expedient, for the support of Miss Eula G. Bates, a Knox graduate of the class of '87.

Meetings are held once a month, in the Seminary. All ladies connected with the Seminary in any way are eligible to membership, and at present there are thirty members.

The officers are elected annually, and are as follows:

President, SIBELLA RUTHERFORD. Secretary, MARY WILEY.

Vice Pres., ANNETTE MONTGOMERY. Treasurer, PUSS SMITH.

Knox Seminary.

---

KNOX SEMINARY is designed to furnish a convenient and attractive home for young women in attendance on the College, the Academy, the Conservatory and the Art School.

The importance of residence in the Seminary cannot be too strongly urged upon the attention of young ladies and their parents. The habits of living and study which prevail there are more regular than in private families, and are highly conducive to both health and literary progress.

The west wing, commenced in the spring of 1892, was completed and occupied December first of the same year. It contains the Oneota Society Hall for the use of the Academy girls, thirty large and pleasant rooms, four additional bath rooms supplied with hot and cold water, and a passenger and freight steam elevator. The halls are broad, well lighted and thoroughly ventilated. The rooms are neatly furnished, the halls and public rooms are lighted by gas, and the entire building is heated by steam.

The board and accommodations furnished in Knox Seminary are equal to those found in the best of such institutions, and as nearly as possible at the actual cost.

All young ladies from abroad are required to board at the Seminary, unless, for special reasons, other arrangements are made with the Principal.

Parents will direct as to calls, correspondence, and the church to be attended, by written communications addressed to the Principal.

Calls upon young ladies, by friends who are not members of the Institution, should be made, as far as practicable, during recreation hours, on Friday evenings and Saturday afternoons.

Each young lady will furnish her own towels, napkins and napkin ring, and a silver spoon, one pair of sheets and pillow cases (size of pillows, 22x26 inches), one comfortable and one rug. Each of these, and all articles of clothing, should be distinctly marked with the owner's full name. Baggage coming to the Seminary should also be marked with the owner's name. It is required that each pupil shall be provided with an umbrella, a water proof cloak and rubber shoes.

Board in the Seminary, with furnished room, light, heating and care of room, Fall Term, $62; Winter Term, $48; Spring Term, $38. Washing and ironing, 50 cents per dozen.

Examinations.

Examinations of all the classes are held at the close of each term. The annual public examinations occupy the week preceding Commencement. At the completion of any study, students shall be reported as "Passed," or "Conditionally Passed," or "Not Passed."

Any student reported "Not Passed" in any study, will not receive credit for that study until he shall have pursued it again as a regular class exercise, and shall have passed the regular examination in the same.

Any student reported as "Conditionally Passed" in any study, must remove the condition within one year from the date when it was incurred; otherwise the study shall be considered and treated as one "Not Passed." Special cases may be adjudicated by the Faculty.

DEGREES.

On recommendation of the Faculty, the degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred by the Board of Trustees on all persons who have completed the prescribed Classical Course of Study; the degree of Bachelor of Science upon all who have similarly completed the Scientific Course, and the degree of Bachelor of Letters upon those completing the Literary Course; the candidates for these several degrees having passed satisfactory examination in these respective courses.

Any graduate student of Knox College desiring to become a candidate for the Degree M. A. or M. S. shall select one or more of the regular departments of college work, e.g., the department of Greek, of Latin, of Mental Science, of Natural Science, of Mathematics, of History, of Modern Languages, of Literature, and prepare himself by advanced work in such department for examination by thesis, or otherwise, under the direction of the head of the department, or heads of the departments selected.

The amount of work required shall be such as to cover at least one year's study, satisfactory evidence thereof to be submitted previous to May 1st preceding conferring of the Degree.

The candidate having made his choice of department or departments, shall, previous to December 1st preceding the Commencement when the Degree is desired, present his application to the Secretary of the Faculty and communicate with the head of that department, or heads of departments, making report of such advanced work as has been done by him.

Graduates of three years' standing, who have been pursuing professional or other satisfactory studies, may receive the Degree of Master of Arts or Master of Sciences on application to the President.

The fee for Diplomas, in all cases, is five dollars.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

In accordance with an agreement made with the Faculty of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., students from this vicinity desiring to enter the Institute may, if they prefer, be examined for admission under the direction of the Faculty of Knox College, this examination to be held at Galesburg at such time and under such conditions as shall be hereafter arranged. For information, address the President of Knox College.

General Information.

ASTRONOMICAL OBSERVATORY.

This very important addition to the educational facilities and attractions of Knox College is in charge of a Director of eminent ability and large experience. The telescope is a "Clark" instrument, of very superior excellence, and the equipment is complete in every respect. The building is located on the Campus, just south of the main college edifice, and is attractive in appearance and ample in all of its appointments.

LIBRARIES.

The College Library contains over 4,000 volumes. The two College Societies—the Adelphi and the Gnothautii—possess libraries numbering over 2,600 volumes, making in all over 6,600 volumes. All these libraries are accessible to students, in both the Collegiate and Preparatory Departments.

A Reading-Room, in connection with the Library, containing the leading reviews, magazines and newspapers, is free to all the students.

All students enjoy the privileges of the Galesburg Public Library and Reading-Room. The Library is an excellent one containing 17,000 volumes, to which additions are made approximating a thousand volumes annually. The Reading-Room contains on file a hundred leading newspapers and periodicals of the day.

MUSEUM.

The Museum is furnished with valuable collections for illustrating the various departments of Natural History. The Mead Herbarium contains 9,000 species, representing almost all the North American Orders of Phanerogamia and Cryptogamia, besides hundreds of European and other foreign genera. The Zoological collection consists of about 15,000 specimens, illustrating 5,000 species, distributed through nearly every important group of the Animal Kingdom. The Mineralogical and Geological cabinets embrace about 4,000 specimens of minerals, rocks and fossils, mostly from the rocks of North America.

MEMORABILIA SOCIETY.

This Society was organized during the Spring Term of 1890 "to collect and preserve all college publications, programs of college entertainments, newspaper accounts of college affairs, and items concerning students, photographs of members of the graduating classes, and all other memorabilia pertaining to Knox College and its history." A large amount of very interesting matter has already been obtained and well bound and catalogued. Donations of the nature described are solicited and always thankfully received.

The officers for the year are as follows:

President—ETHA BUTCHER.

Vice President—ALMEDIA LAURSON.

Secretary—MYRA BOYD.

Solicitor and Treasurer—J. F. STURGEON.

Historiographer—C. R. BARGE.

Antiquarian—WILFRED ARNOLD.

Biographer—ALLAN C. REARICK.

Librarian—B. C. TAYLOR.

CONTEST ASSOCIATION.

This Association is composed of members in good standing of the Gnothautii and Adelphi Societies. The purpose of the organization is to promote the interests of oratory at Knox College, and to elect orator and delegates to the Inter-Collegiate Contest. It aims at inspiring the student to greater efforts and holds out to the orator its hearty encouragement and support.

The officers for the year are as follows:

President, H. C. CALHOUN.

Secretary, A. O. LINDSTRUM.

Vice Pres., E. H. MONTGOMERY.

Treasurer, L. C. MAYNARD.

THE GYMNASIUM.

The Gymnasium is open to all students of the College and Academy under such regulations as the Faculty may prescribe. It is equipped with such apparatus as is deemed essential to a progressive and complete physical development, and is in charge of an experienced, well qualified and careful Director.

RELIGIOUS WORSHIP.

Students of all departments are expected to attend public worship twice on the Sabbath, at the church which they or their parents may select.

The students of all the departments are required to meet in the College Chapel every morning, where religious exercises are held; instruction being given by the President, or some member of the Faculty, upon religious subjects.

ABSENCE FROM COLLEGE.

The portion of the year allotted to vacations is so ample as to render it unnecessary for students to visit their friends during term time, except for urgent and unforeseen reasons. The absence of the student, even for a few days, occasions him much greater injury than is commonly supposed. It is hoped that parents and guardians will concur with the Faculty in their opinion of the inexpediency of granting leave of absence in ordinary cases.

THE COUP D'ETAT.

THE COUP D'ETAT is published on the 15th of each month during the college year by the "Coup D'Etat Joint Stock Company," composed of forty of the leading students of the College. The paper is devoted to the highest interests of Knox, its students and alumni. The editors are chosen annually from the members of the Stock Company.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS.

1. Each of the Literary Societies holds an exhibition on successive evenings near the close of the Fall Term.
2. The College Prize Orations are given on the last Tuesday evening of the Winter Term.
3. The exhibition of the Conservatory of Music occurs on Thursday evening before Commencement.
4. The College Prize Declamations by young ladies of the College are given on Friday evening before Commencement.
5. Commencement on second Thursday in June.

I.—REGULATIONS FOR THE PRIZES IN ORATORY.

1. At the close of the Fall Term, the Faculty will select three members of the Senior and three of the Junior Class, who shall contend for the prizes in Oratory. The basis of appointment shall be general excellence in the elocutionary and rhetorical departments.

2. Each oration must contain less than 1,800 words; and all the orations must be left for criticism with the Professor of Rhetoric by the last Friday of February; provided, that in individual cases and for special reasons, the Faculty may, by vote, extend the time.

3. These six orations will be delivered under the direction of the President, on the last Tuesday evening of the second term; and a first prize of twenty, and a second prize of ten dollars, will be awarded for excellence in both composition and delivery, by a committee appointed by the Faculty for the purpose.

4. A copy of each of the orations, written on College paper, with a broad margin for binding, will be preserved in the College Library.

II.—REGULATIONS FOR PRIZES IN ENGLISH COMPOSITION.

1. The Faculty will assign one or more subjects to the Sophomore, and also to the Freshman Class, by the middle of the Fall Term. Any student in actual attendance, who is entirely free from conditions in his studies, and without censure for improper conduct, may present for judgment an essay upon any one, or essays upon all of the subjects assigned to his class.

2. Each essay must contain less than 2,000 words; must be written on College paper, with a broad margin for binding; must be signed with a fictitious name, and accompanied by a sealed note containing the author's real name.

3. The essays must be left with the President by five o'clock p.m., on the last Wednesday of the second term; provided, that in individual cases, and for special reasons, the Faculty may, by vote, extend the time. The best essay in each class will be selected by a committee chosen by the Faculty, and a prize of fifteen dollars awarded to the writer.

4. A copy of each successful essay will be preserved in the College library.

III.—REGULATIONS FOR PRIZES IN DECLAMATION.

1. At the opening of the third term the Faculty may select three ladies from each of the two upper classes, who shall contend for these prizes. The basis shall be general excellence in elocution and declamation.

2. Within two weeks after appointment, each competitor will report to the Professor of Rhetoric, a selection of standard English, containing not less than 900 nor more than 1,200 words.

3. On the Friday evening preceding Commencement these extracts will be delivered under the direction of the Instructor in Elocution, and first and second prizes, consisting of books to the value of twenty and ten dollars respectively, will be awarded for excellence in delivery.

4. Prizes in declamation may also be contended for by the gentlemen in the two lower classes of the College, the basis of appointment, and the rules and regulations of the contest to be the same as those above prescribed; the contest to be on the Tuesday preceding Commencement.

IV.—CONDITION PRECEDENT.

No student shall be appointed to participate in a contest, who is, at the time of appointment, subject to a condition in any one of his studies, or under censure for improper conduct; nor shall any appointee be permitted to take part in a contest, who has, subsequent to his appointment, incurred censure for improper conduct.

CADET PRIZES.

A beautiful gold medal, presented to the College by Lieutenant S. C. Mills, U. S. Army, [former Commandant of Cadets at Knox College], known as the "Mills Medal," to be worn by that Cadet non-commissioned officer or private, declared to excel in drill and discipline, is competed for in December of each year. This Medal is worn by the Cadet declared entitled to it, until the end of the school year, if he remain in College during that time. A competitive Company Drill is also held annually during the Spring Term, for the handsome Cadet Corps Flag presented to the College by Lieutenant E. A. Edwards, U. S. Army, [former Commandant of Cadets]; the Flag to be awarded to and borne by the Company declared to excel in drill and discipline, until again competed for.

Expenses in Knox College.

The charges, payable to the College Treasury, are the following, viz :

Tuition and Incidental Expenses, Fall Term,	- - -	$18.00
“ “ “ Winter Term,	- - -	15.00
“ “ “ Spring Term, - - -		12.00

The established charge for one study is one-half the regular rate of tuition. For more than one study the full rates are charged.

The charges in Knox Academy are as follows :

Tuition and Incidental Expenses, for Fall Term,	- - -	$10.00
“ “ “ Winter Term,	- - -	9.00
“ “ “ Spring Term, - - -		6.00

Payment of all dues is required in advance, for each term, unless an extension of time is granted by the President. Hence, no student will be allowed to recite, in any department or class, or to be enrolled as a member of any department or class, until he exhibits either a receipt from the College Treasurer or a permit from the President.

AID TO STUDENTS.

Students who have the Christian ministry in view may receive aid from certain educational societies, if their circumstances require it, to the amount of $75 to $100 a year, on application to the President. Aid to the amount of $100 a year may also be obtained from the "Pearsons Fund," by deserving students in the full Classical Course.

BOARD.

Board, with room, may be obtained in private families at from $3.50 to $5.00 per week; without room, at from $2.50 to $4.00.

Young men of both the College and the Academy are furnished with board at the Seminary table at $2.50 per week.

Application for rooms and board can be made at the Treasurer's office.

Families wishing to receive students are requested to make known their terms at the Treasurer's office. All whose names are received on this list agree to inform the Faculty, promptly, of every known violation of the College laws by students boarding at their houses.

Students desiring to work for their board will find many opportunities for doing so in the private families of the city. Every young person of good health and habits, who is really determined to gain a liberal education, and who is willing to make the necessary effort and to practice the necessary self-denial and economy, will always find sympathy and encouragement in Knox College. The necessary expense, including books and all else, except clothing, traveling etc., (of which no estimate can be made) ranges from $125 to $200 per annum.

Knox Academy.

The paramount educational need of the West, is a supply of well-organized and thoroughly-equipped Secondary Schools, or Academies, where our youth may be soundly and completely fitted for our colleges, without the heavy expense and moral risk of sending them abroad for that purpose. Such a school is Knox Academy, an adjunct of the College, in which students are prepared for college as thoroughly as in any similar institution in this country, East or West, and at less than one-third the expense of sending them abroad. The special attention of those who have sons or daughters for whom they desire a liberal education, is invited to this statement.

The Academy comprises two departments, English and Classical. The former gives a full course of English studies, fitting the pupil for business, and affords special advantages to students who intend to become teachers. The latter is a Preparatory Department, devoted to the thorough preparation of students for College. The course of study, for students intending to enter the Classical Course in the College, extends through three years; that for the Scientific Course extends through two years; that for the Literary Course, extends through one year.

In order to enter the Classical Department of the Academy, students must pass an examination in the elementary English studies.

The students, to some extent, enjoy the benefit of instruction by the College professors, in branches pertaining to their several departments.

It is desired that young ladies from abroad, attending the Academy, should board in the Seminary, and be under the supervision of its Principal.

After this year, students in the Senior Preparatory Class, and Scientific students in the Middle Preparatory Class, will study Wells' Algebra, beginning at Radicals and going through with the Progressions, and then will begin Wells' Plane Geometry and take four books before the end of the year.

Ladies in the Junior Preparatory Class will study Wells' Algebra the entire year, going through the Progressions, and will begin Geometry at the beginning of their Freshman year.

Literary Societies.

Three Literary Societies are sustained by the students of the Academy. They are well managed, vigorous and useful, and are doing much to foster an interest in writing, speaking, debating and other literary and elocutionary work, the good effects of which are afterward seen in College. Sketches of the Societies are appended:

THE ZETETICI

Was organized in the Winter of 1864. The motto of the Society, as its name signifies, is, "Seek to Know." Any male student of the Academy is eligible to membership.

Meetings are held on each Tuesday evening of the College year. The literary exercises consist of orations, debates, essays, papers, declamations, etc.

At the last annual contest between the Zetetici and E. O. D. Societies, the Zetetici was first by eleven to two points.

The officers of the Society are elected at the last regular meeting of each term, and at present are as follows:

President, BERNARD LAWRENCE.      Cor. Sec., E. P. LAWRENCE.

Vice President, LYNN IRWIN.      Treasurer, H. SWIGERT.

Rec. Sec., WARREN WILLIAMSON.      Critic, W. Y. WASSON.

THE E. O. D.

Was organized in December, 1873. The letters E. O. D., by which the Society is known, are the English representatives of the initials of a Greek phrase signifying "To Be, Not to Seem," which is the motto of the Society. Any young man in the Academy is eligible to membership.

The regular meetings are held on each Thursday evening of the College year. The literary exercises consist of orations, debates, essays, papers, declamations, etc.

The officers of the Society are elected at the last regular meeting of each term, and at present are as follows.

President, JAMES B. MAXWELL.

Cor. Sec., HARRY TOWNSEND.

Critic, P. W. THOMSON.

THE ONEOTA SOCIETY

Of Knox Academy and Conservatory was organized in October, 1889. The name Oneota is Indian and signifies "The pursuit of fine arts."

Any young lady pursuing a course of study in the Academy, Conservatory or Art Department is eligible to membership. The meetings are held each Tuesday afternoon of the college year. The exercises consist of music, debates, essays, declamations, etc.

Officers are elected at the last regular meeting but one of each term, and at present are as follows :

President, WINIFRED H. WILEY.

Cor. Sec., MOLLIE TAYLOR.

Vice President, EVA STANFORD.

Treasurer, EUDORA FRASIER.

Rec. Sec., ADDIE SWIGERT.

Marshal, MARGIE WAKEFIELD.

Knox School of Art.

---

LYMAN A. LOOMIS, DIRECTOR.

Instructor in Drawing, Painting and Sketching from Nature.

LOUISE TRYON,

Assistant Instructor in Drawing.

Knox School of Art offers special inducements to young men and women in Drawing and Painting, not only as an accomplishment, but giving those who wish to become teachers, illustrators, designers, engravers, mechanical draughtsmen and portrait artists a practical and thorough course in free hand drawing.

Instruction in this department is complete and thorough, the intention being to cultivate the artistic perception and judgment, as well as to train the eye and hand. That the best results may be attained, students in Art are recommended to take a full course. Too many students in their eagerness to secure tangible results, to produce paintings of their own, are inclined to neglect the careful study of the elements of drawing, a kind of knowledge necessary to success in independent work.

Regular students are given careful training in the following course of study, which comprises three years or more, according to the ability of the student: Perspective drawing, drawing from objects and models of simple form, drawing from plaster casts in outline, drawing from casts in light and shade, with crayon, charcoal and pastelle, still life studies in pencil, oil and water color. Special attention will be given to sketching from nature. The last year in the course will be devoted to drawing from life, painting from life, and a full course in the History of Art will also be required of students wishing to graduate.

Students are expected to conform to the rules of the College as laid down in the catalogue.

Students must register their names and pay their tuition before they begin their lessons.

Students can join the Art School at any time.

The Studios are furnished with a large assortment of plaster casts, easels, drawing boards, etc., for students' use.

Students wishing to work in the Studio more than on their regular lesson days may have the use of the room at the rate of two cents per hour.

Students are not allowed to leave the work in black and white until they have acquired a degree of proficiency to do strong and finished work.

Mr. Lyman A. Loomis is a thoroughly competent Instructor, having spent two years in Germany under some of the best Art teachers, besides having had several years' experience in teaching in this country.

Announcement.

The Knox Conservatory of Music offers every inducement to music students, and invites attention to its facilities for affording high class instruction.

At present its apartments are in the Seminary building and consist of ten rooms with pianos for practice, seven teaching rooms, Directors' office and a recital hall which is furnished with an elegant concert grand Steinway piano.

The rapid and remarkable growth of this school during the last few years is an evidence of the popularity and esteem in which it is held, and the results presented by the pupils are the best proofs of the valuable and practical methods employed in the instruction and guidance of such as are intrusted to its care.

Diplomas will be awarded to pupils who give evidence of a good English education, and shall complete the prescribed course in Harmony, Counterpoint, Sight Singing, History and Theory of Music, and one of the following branches: Piano, Pipe Organ, Violin or Voice.

The Courses of Study are as follows:

HARMONY.

FIRST TERM.—Keys; Scales and Signatures; Intervals; Formation of the Triad; Chord Connection; Simple Part-Writing begun.

SECOND TERM.—Harmonizing Basses (which include all chords of the Seventh and their inversions), and practice in distinguishing Chords and Chord Connections by Ear. Harmonizing Melodies begun.

THIRD TERM.—Altered and Augmented Chords explained and practically worked out from Basses given for Harmonization. Harmonizing Melodies continued.

FOURTH TERM.—Harmonizing Melodies continued; Suspensions; Passing Chords; Passing and Changing Notes; Organ Point.

FIFTH TERM.—Modulation and Chord Analysis.

COUNTERPOINT.

FIRST TERM.—Counterpoint and Original Part-Writing.

SECOND TERM.—Counterpoint continued, Canon and Fugue explained.

HISTORY AND THEORY OF MUSIC.

FIRST TERM.—General History and Development of Music and its influence in Ancient and Modern Times; Fillmore's Text-book used.

SECOND TERM.—Essays on the Lives of the Great Composers and Performers; American Music and Musicians.

THIRD TERM.—Lectures on Sound; Musical Form and Analysis.

SIGHT SINGING.

The work in this department will be divided into two classes—Beginning and Advanced.

BEGINNING.—The work done will embrace a thorough explanation of all the fundamental principles of music—notes, time, keys, major scales and common chords.

ADVANCED.—The minor and chromatic scales, dominant and diminished seventh chords, will be studied. Sight reading will be the great feature, and all who may understand the principles of reading at sight, yet have not a practical knowledge, will find the Glees, Anthems, Part Songs, etc., introduced for the purpose, very interesting.

PIANO FORTE.

Preparatory.—Simple exercises for finger and wrist development. Studies from Kohler, Czerny, Gurlitt, Parlor Pieces and Sonatinas from the best composers. Special care will be taken in this elementary instruction, as herein lies the foundation of the future pianist.

Before leaving this Department, pupils must pass a satisfactory examination before the Director. Certificates will be given to those who meet the requirements of this examination, viz: An ability to play major scales four notes to 120 M. M., and a readiness and accuracy in sight reading.

Intermediate.—Selected Technics from Tausig, Zwintscher and Mason. Etudes from Kohler, op. 50; Duvernoy, op. 120; Czerny, op. 636; Heller, op. 46 and 45; duets for Piano, and for Piano and Violin; Sonatinas from Kuhlau; Sonatas from Haydn and Mozart. Selections from the best modern composers for the development of style, expression and memory.

Before leaving this Department, pupils must pass a satisfactory examination before the Director. Certificates will be given to those who meet the requirements of this examination, viz: An ability to play major and minor scales four notes to 144 M. M., both in similar and contrary motion; also correctness and fluency in arpeggio playing.

Advanced.—Selected Technics from Tausig, Zwintscher and Mason. Etudes from Czerny, op. 299 and 740; Cramer's 50 studies (Von Buelow ed.); Kullak, octave school; Bach's inventions and preludes and fugues.

This mechanical course is supplemented by selections from the works of Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin, Schumann, Liszt, and also from the best living writers of America and other countries.

For the general musical culture, it is required that all students who graduate from the Conservatory in this department shall take at least one year's private instruction in voice culture, violin, or some other than their chosen instrument.

THE VOICE.

Preparatory. 1. Exercises for the control of the breath by means of the diaphragm and for relaxation of throat.

2. Exercises for the placing of the tone and the proper formation of vowels and consonants.

3. Concone's Fifty Lessons for the Voice and Simple Songs.

It is the aim in this elementary instruction to strengthen the voice, throat, lungs and body in general and thus lay a foundation which will enable the singer to produce pure tones most easily and effectually.

Before leaving this department the pupil is required to pass an examination in Sight Singing and a written examination in the rudiments of music.

Advanced.—Exercises in vocalization for the development of technique, Vaccai's method of singing, Marchesi's Exercises (op. I and V.), Salvatore Marchesi's Vocalises; Righini's Vocalises. Study of the songs of the best American, English, German, French and Italian song-writers, arias from standard operas and oratorios.

Before graduating from the Conservatory in this department, the student must be able to play all simple piano accompaniment at sight, with freedom and accuracy.

THE VIOLIN.

For this instrument is laid out a course designed to awaken the pupil's interest and by strict application to which he may acquire a good degree of proficiency and skill.

The course consists of selections from the violin schools of David, Weiss and Dancla; Systematic Technical Exercises, Scales, Arpeggios and studies intended to develop the technique and establish the system of bowing and fingering taught in the best German schools. Also special attention is given to quality and breadth of tone upon which depends all effective violin playing. As the student advances, the following studies are used in progressive order: Kayser op. 20; Kreutzer's Forty Etudes; Fiorillo's Etudes; Rode's Twenty-four Caprices, together with duets, trios and quartets for strings; selected Sonatas, Solos and Concertos from Bach, Hayden, Mozart, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Spohr, Rode, Viotti, DeBeriot, Wieniawski, Gade, Grieg and many others of the modern composers.

Before graduating from the Conservatory in this department, the student must be able to play all simple piano accompaniments at sight, with freedom and accuracy.

PIPE ORGAN.

Before entering this department, the student should have completed the Intermediate Course in Pianoforte, or the Full Course in Cabinet Organ. Following is the course of study: Selections from Ritter's and Rink's Organ School; Pedal Technics (Thayer); Pedal Studies (Volemar); Studies in Pedal Phrasing (Buck); Studiem in Fugato, op. 15, (G. Ad. Thomas); Trios, op. 20, (Richter), and op. 39 (Merkel); Fugues from "Well Tempered Clavier," arranged by Van Eyken (Bach); selections from Bach's Organ Works, and from the Sonatas of Mendelssohn, Merkel, Rheinberger and Ritter, together with miscellaneous Selections from the works of Händel, Richter, Guilmant, Buck, Smart, Hesse, Best and others.

CABINET ORGAN.

In the study of this instrument pupils are instructed in playing Church Music, Voluntaries, etc., great care being taken not only that the pupil shall be familiar with all the resources of the instrument, but also, having completed the course of study, shall be fully prepared to undertake the study of the Pipe Organ.

Instruction in other instruments,—the Flute, Clarinet, Cornet and other wind instruments ; also Viola, “Cello,” Guitar and all stringed instruments will be taught when desired.

REHEARSALS.

The term's work will be interspersed with rehearsals, which will become more frequent as the advancing proficiency of the pupils may warrant. Students will take part in the rehearsals as they are qualified, and perform such pieces as may be assigned them by their teachers, for the purpose of giving them ease and self-control in public.

FREE PRIVILEGES.

1. Two classes in Sight Singing.
2. Rehearsals and Concerts given by students.
3. Recitals and Lectures given by the teachers.
4. Orchestral and ensemble practice to all sufficiently advanced.
5. Practice in some one of the Church Choirs of the city.
6. Class in History and Theory of Music.

ADVANTAGES.

As Galesburg is so favorably situated on main lines of travel, the Conservatory, College and other organizations bring many fine Lectures, Concerts, Operas and Solo Artists to the city, the hearing of which is very needful to the student.

Students have access to the City and College Libraries.

By passing examination, students can join the “Knox Conservatory Vocal Society,” an organization for the study of the higher forms of music.

Several College Literary Societies are open to students in the Conservatory.

Arrangements have been made with the First Church to use their three manual organ. This organ was built by Steere & Sons, Springfield, Mass., and has all modern improvements, including pneumatic action.

REGULATIONS.

Students must register their names and pay all dues (tuition, piano rent, library &c.,) before they begin their lessons.

Only in case of protracted illness (two weeks or more duration) accompanied with Physician's statement, can any deduction be made for absence from lessons. In such cases the institution will share the loss equally with the student.

The Conservatory will observe Thanksgiving Day and The Day of Prayer for Colleges as holidays. All lessons missed from other holidays taken will be made up.

Music and Musical Merchandise will be sold to the students at a reduction ; these bills must be settled at the end of each term.

Students are expected to conform to the rules of the College as laid down in the catalogue. No deduction to students entering after the opening of the term unless over two weeks late. In such cases the institution will share the loss equally with the student.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The Conservatory has a sufficient number of good pianos, which students can rent for practice at 25 cents a week for one hour per day.

The pipe organ at the First Church can be rented for practice at 25 cents per hour, including blowing.

Students can join the Conservatory at any time, although it is far better to enter at the beginning of each term.

It is advisable that pupils in all departments take two lessons per week, although not compulsory.

A carefully selected library of standard music has been provided for the use of students in practice, for which from 25 cents to $1 per term is charged, according to the number of pieces required.

The length of time devoted to the Harmony Classes will depend upon the size of the classes. All other classes will be one hour in length.

Students who graduate from the Conservatory are expected to give a recital sometime during their Senior year.

Students can pursue one study in the College or Academy, in connection with a full Conservatory Course, at one-third the regular rates.

Those who are not taking full course in the Conservatory and may wish to study "History and Theory of Music" will be charged $5.00 each term.

The necessary expenses for an entire year's study in the Conservatory need not exceed $240, which includes board and room and all incidental expenses and instruction in Harmony and any other one branch.

Secretary's office will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 12:10 p. m., and from 2:30 to 5:00 p. m.

Regular attendance of pupils is expected at all recitals and concerts given by the Faculty and students.

Those who are not studying in the Conservatory and may wish to join the Sight Singing classes will be charged $1.00 per term for each class.

No student, during his senior year, will be allowed to appear in public without permission from the Director.
